National Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) Council Announces Endorsement of Jeff Sessions for Senate

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
FEBRUARY 28, 2020

Today, National Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) Council President Chris Crane released the following statement after the National ICE Council officially endorsed Jeff Sessions for the U.S. Senate in the State of Alabama.

“On behalf of the men and women of the National Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) Council, we’re proud to endorse Jeff Sessions for Senate in the State of Alabama.

We know Jeff Sessions and we know what he stands for. As the United States Attorney General, Jeff Sessions led the fight against sanctuary cities and illegal immigration, and was an unwavering champion of law enforcement officers across the nation.

As a U.S. Senator, Jeff Sessions was the strongest supporter in the U.S. Congress of ICE, its mission, and its employees. We have no doubt that Senator Sessions will pick up right where he left off – standing up for law enforcement and the enforcement of our laws. We know he will continue to lead the fight against sanctuary cities that threaten our communities and endanger our law enforcement personnel across the country. And we know that he will keep fighting against radical open border policies that threaten our national security.

Jeff Sessions has always stood up to The Swamp and always worked to hold Washington accountable. We need him now more than ever to stand up for what’s right and stand with President Trump to keep America safe. “
